Women in Science Presents:

Sexual Harassment Prevention Seminar

Thursday May 2 S-3-143 1:00PM-3:00PM

This seminar will answer the questions: What is Sexual Harassment? What is UMass Boston’s Sexual Harassment Policy? It will help give you ideas of how to identify sexual harassment and what to do if you feel you are a victim of harassment. This seminar is especially designed to address female students who are studying in the sciences and so will focus on Sexual Harassment on campus and in the classroom. All students, staff, and faculty members of all gender identities are invited to attend, and the seminar will also address issues regarding sexual harassment in the workplace and in other areas of life.

Speakers:

Ana M. Torres, Special Assistant to the Chief Diversity Officer Office of Diversity and Inclusion UMass Boston, and Yolanda Smith, Superintendent at the South Bay House of Correction and former Director of Training for the Suffolk County Sheriff’s Department.

Refreshments will be served!
